

A movie poster for the film 'Plus de lait'. The background is a dark, stormy night sky with bright yellow lightning bolts. In the center is a large, multi-story Victorian-style house with a prominent central tower and several windows, some of which are lit from within. In the foreground, a large chessboard is shown, split into two halves that are slightly offset from each other. On the left half, a hand is moving a white chess piece. On the right half, another hand is shown. The chessboard is set on a dark, reflective surface. The overall mood is mysterious and suspenseful.
